FLOORING

PURE, A GREEN FLOOR IN FIVE COLOURS.

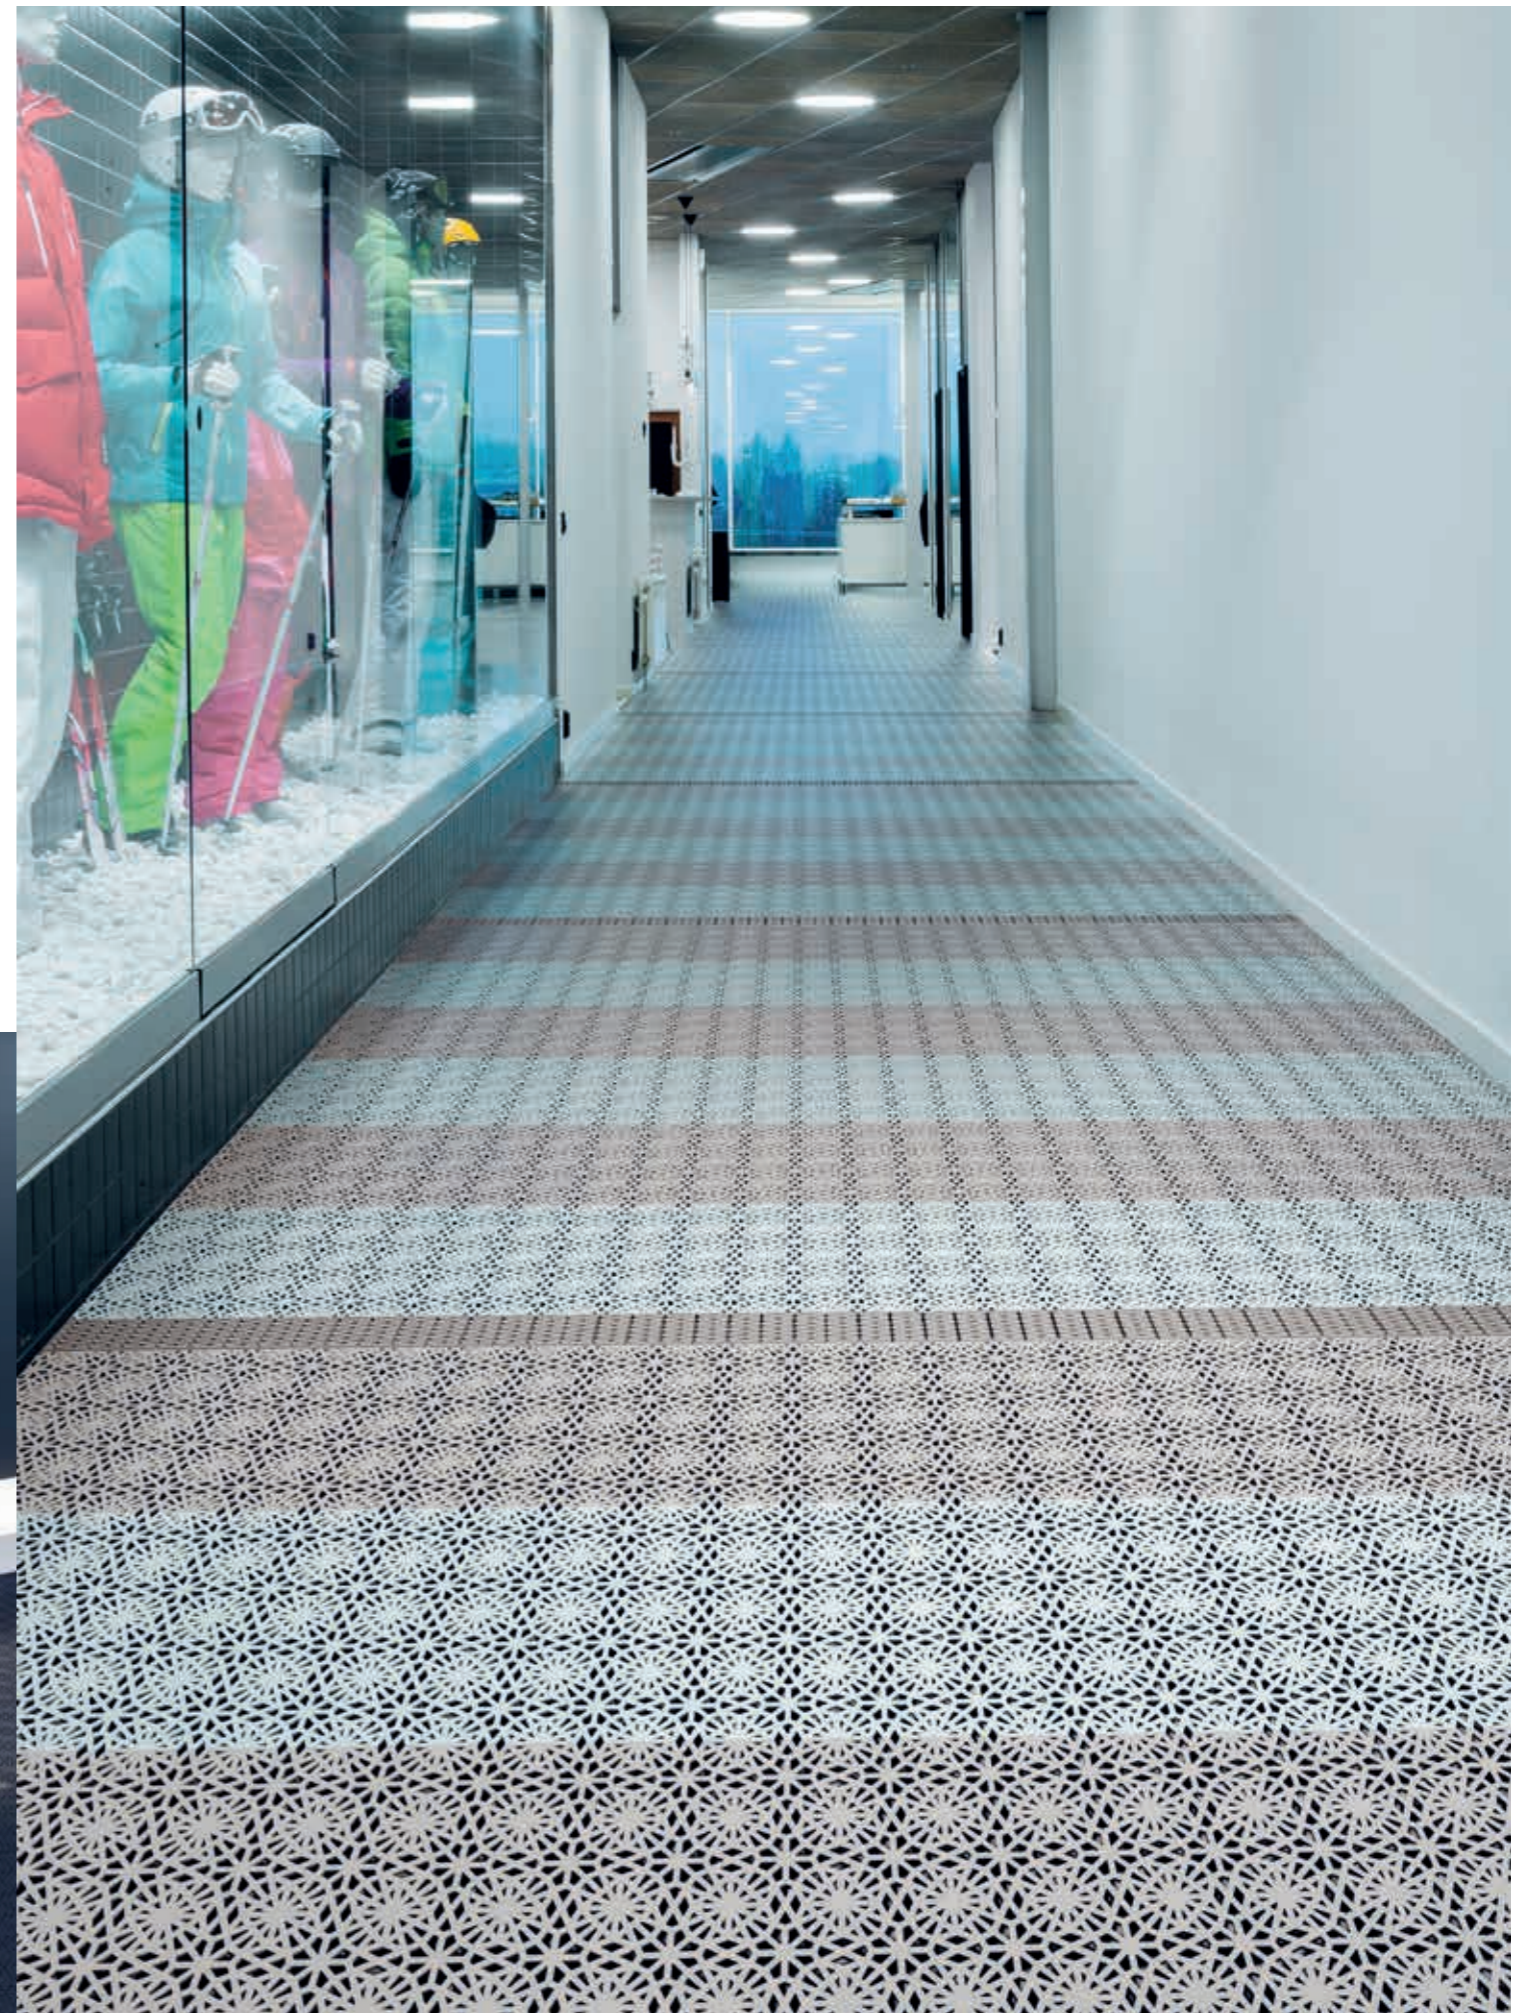

Imagine flooring made of a material that could be recycled 100 %.
Then imagine actually making sure the recycled material was used in the production of flooring.
Imagine also being able to re-use the flooring once it was already installed.
Imagine moving it from one room to another.
Imagine if someone could create such a material, based entirely on recycling philosophy.
Well, we have.
It's called PURE.
We've been making flooring from polypropylene (which is fully recyclable) for more than 40 years.
Now we're going all the way and launching flooring made from recycled raw materials.
It's good looking, green and comes in five different colours.
You can install PURE almost anywhere you like, both at home and in public areas. Just look at this list: offices, retail stores, trade shows, exhibitions, receptions, gyms and changing rooms. You can use it at home in your sauna, your basement and your garage. On your patio or balcony. We could go on and on and fill an entire page with different places and areas.
You can install PURE almost anyway you like
No dramatic preparation necessary, and you won't need glues, screws or nails.
You can even install PURE where other types of flooring fail – on surfaces where there's damp.
Join us on a round tour and see where we've installed PURE.
Just turn the page...

THIS IS PURE

PURE is a flooring tile made from polypropylene and recycled polypropylene. PURE is installed freely on existing floors without glues, screws or nails. Because the flooring has an open structure it can even be installed on damp surfaces. PURE is currently available in one design (Royal) and five colours.
